The City of Canton Welcomes You to the Original First Monday Trade Days

Canton is a charming town that sits an hour east of Dallas on IH-20. Its vibrant downtown is the heart of the city, which is home to some of the best shopping and dining opportunities in all of East Texas. As a National Main Street City, Canton is proud of its rich heritage, and active volunteers work tirelessly to preserve it.

Canton is world-renowned for its First Monday Trade Days. Once a month, Thursday through Sunday before the first Monday of every month, Canton turns into a shopper's paradise. Between 200,000 and 400,000 tourists, visitors, and vendors roll into town and get together to create a shopping experience as big as Texas. With over 450 acres of shopping, 4 miles of covered shopping, and great festival food, there is sure to be something for everyone—rain or shine. Visitors can find the best in antiques, clothing, jewelry, collectibles and many other treasures while browsing through the acres of booths and buildings, including the 34,000 square foot Canton Civic Center. With so much ground to cover, shoppers are bound to work up an appetite. Check out the many food locations throughout the grounds: corn dogs, salads, sandwiches, gourmet pizza and more.

It has been said that if you can't find it in Canton, they just don't make it. Come shop until you drop!

Canton has a lot to offer besides First Monday as well, with year-round events including two Western Swings, the Tailwind Regional Balloon Fest, The Autumn Festival, and one-of-a-kind July 4th and Christmas activities. There are also great attractions in and around Canton including, Splash Kingdom Waterpark, YesterLand Farm, Mill Creek Ranch Resort, the East Texas Gator Farm, and more. With great lakes and trails, two world class golf courses, disc golf and outstanding fishing, Canton has plenty to offer the active lifestyle. We are the Walking Capital of Texas after all.

Spend some time exploring our website before your next visit and see our tips for making your experience more enjoyable. Learn more about the history of this Texas landmark and make plans to join us for the next Trade Days weekend.

A Living History

The Original First Monday Trade Days

In the 1850s when the circuit judge stopped in Canton on the first Monday of each month to hold court, people from across Van Zandt and surrounding counties came to the Courthouse square to watch court proceedings and take care of business.

Many brought their own goods to sell or trade, including produce, farm equipment and livestock. Canton's First Monday earned a statewide reputation as the best place to buy a good horse.

First Monday also became the place to go to find a good hunting dog. Dog trading became so popular that many began referring to First Monday as "Dog Monday".

By 1965, First Monday Trade Day had outgrown the Courthouse square, so the City of Canton purchased six acres just two blocks from the Courthouse and the sale moved off the square. While the sale originally took place only on Monday, over the years it grew to incorporate the weekend prior to the first Monday of the month. Today, trade days are Thursday through Sunday prior to the first Monday, and the sale takes place year-round, rain or shine, with booths open from Sun-Up 'til Sundown.

In the early years of the First Monday sale, little money changed hands. Most people came to town to swap or exchange their unneeded or surplus stock for various desired items by means of barter. First Monday was all about the trade. In fact, the trade day was commonly referred to as "Hoss Monday" because horse ("hoss") owners used the day to swap animals with each other.

For more than a century, the colorful stories surrounding First Monday Trade Days have been passed along to generations of Van Zandt County residents. One of the most common is the story of a man convicted and hung for killing George Conquest, an Englishman from Louisiana who made a living peddling goods from a wagon. Records show his partner, D.C. White, shot and killed Conquest in the Owlet Green neighborhood in Van Zandt County where the two had camped for the night. White then stole the wagon full of goods and made his way back to Louisiana where he was later apprehended and returned to Canton. He was hung in February 1882 and buried facing south (not east) in Hillcrest Cemetery near the First Monday Park. It was the last of only two legal executions in the history of Van Zandt County.

During First Monday's 150-year history, just about everything has been traded at First Monday. It's told that in the 1940s, two couples became such good friends during Trade Days that they decided to trade spouses and went to the District Clerk's Office to pursue the exchange.

During election years, politicians brought their campaigns to First Monday because more voters would be gathered here than at any other event. Still today, it isn't uncommon to run into candidates for local, state and federal offices walking the pathways of the Original Trade Days Park, talking to voters and taking time to sample the flavors of First Monday.

Tips

To Make Your Shopping Experience More Enjoyable

- Buy it when you first see it -- you might not be able to find your way back later.
- A vendor-issued Gate Pass allows the customer to drive a vehicle into the Park to load furniture or other heavy items.
- With more than 100 acres of shopping in the Original Park, choose a meeting place in case your party becomes separated and cell phones don't work.
- Bring cash. While credit cards and checks are accepted by most indoor vendors, many outdoor vendors only accept cash. There are ATM'S located throughout the Original First Monday Park.
- Note a landmark near the location where you park in case you need help getting back to your vehicle. Handicapped parking is available at the Main Gate and Log Cabin entrances.
- Water and food are available for purchase in the park. Picnic areas are also available.
- First Monday Offices are only allowed to page for lost children and medical emergencies.

Canton Trade Center

The Canton Trade Center is located directly in the center of all the Canton First Monday grounds which causes a natural flow of shoppers through the pavilion and yes – this is a covered pavilion. In addition to this, the Canton Trade Center has its own six acre parking lot for autos, an RV park with eighty hook-ups, and bath house on site.

We strive to personally assist our vendors and customers in any way we can to help them be successful and satisfied with the Canton Trade Center! In fact, we allow vendors to build semi-permanent booths which makes it easier to set up each month. We consider our vendors as leasing from month to month which allow them time during the month to improve their booths, and even set up to sell anytime during the month which isn't so for the other markets. For more Information call (903) 829-5224.

Animal Grounds

Now, take a tour of the area commonly referred to as Dog Alley, which is the animal section.

You will find many (advertised) pure breeds of animals from dogs and cats to exotic species of fowl, miniature horses and many barnyard animals. It is well worth the trip to see the cute little creatures. You will also find an abundance of quality pet supplies at very good prices. Several acres on Highway 64 east of downtown. For more information call Curry Trade Grounds at (903) 567-6197 or Mill Creek Trade Grounds at (903) 530-2628.

Old Mill Marketplace

Old Mill Marketplace offers a friendly, clean and convenient marketplace complex for shoppers with over 800 shops.

This area is a relatively new shopping area in Canton and you will not be disappointed in the variety. Old Mill Marketplace takes the time to select only the BEST of vendors. We jury each and every vendor to assure the quality of their product.

The Village Shops

This retail operation is located within the Old Mill Marketplace and is easily accessible to other Trade Days areas. The Village offers a unique atmosphere for vendors and customers that visit First Monday Trade Days. The "Texas Hill Country" style shops provide the best location for vendors interested in displaying their merchandise.

Shoppers have the advantage of enjoying the open atmosphere with merchandise being displayed on an 8 foot covered porch in front of each shop. We know you'll enjoy this unique shopping experience.

"Lock And Leave" Shops

"Lock and Leave" spaces are located in the Pavilions on the regular grounds, and also The Old Mill Market Place for those that want to setup their products and leave it locked and secure between Trade Days.

The Mountain

The Mountain is themed as an old west town. It is nestled on a wooded hillside two blocks east of downtown Canton.

Overnight lodging, unique shops and restaurants line the winding streets. Many of the shop owners dress in period clothing. There are crafts, arts, antiques, flea market, food, Native American Indian arts & crafts, music, street entertainment, demonstrating artists and craftsmen, free admission and western storefronts are located on a gentle East Texas hillside where the beautiful tree-shaded Old West atmosphere takes you back in time and history. Over 100 antique and crafts shops with new attractions opening each month. Open First Monday Weekends. For more information call (903) 567-5445.

Plan Your Trip

Here is some insight into Canton's most popular monthly event:

When is it the busiest time to visit?

Crowds are generally at their highest during the spring and fall, but some of the best bargains may be found during the summer and winter months. Vendors might be more willing to offer deals on unsold merchandise on Sundays.

How do I find help if I need it?

The sites at the Original First Monday Trade Days Park have lights, paved paths and picnic areas all patrolled by police and paramedics. If you're visiting with a large party, pick out a meeting spot in case you get separated. Should you get lost, have a question or need first aid, look for staff members wearing red shirts.

How do I pay for what I find?

Many of the outdoor or smaller vendors only accept cash while the ones inside might take checks or credit cards. Paying in cash also gives you better bargaining power. Several ATMs are available. Buy a bargain when you see it. It might not be there if you try to purchase it later.

How do I tote all of my purchases?

For large items, be sure to get a vendor-issued gate pass so that you can drive your car into the park to pick it up. Some visitors bring a cart or a wagon to carry their purchases. You can rent scooters and shopping carts on site. Otherwise, be prepared to make multiple trips back to your vehicle to secure your purchases in the trunk.
